PREFACE TO THE FIRST EDITION.

IN the composition of this Work, the principal object has been to furnish the Mercantile community with short and easy methods of ascertaining to the minutest fraction the value of commodities either in small or large amounts; accurate Tables of Weights, Income, Exchange, Commission and Interest. From the long practical experience the Author has had as an Accountant, together with the strict attention which he has paid to the compilation of the following Tables, he entertains an earnest hope that they will meet with a favorable reception.

But while the Author acknowledges that these Tables were originally composed with a view to relieve the Merchant and his assistants from many long, and often tedious calculations, he would suggest that from their extreme simplicity they are equally adapted for the use of Tradesmen and Private individuals, being purposely divested of all intricacies (so often found in works of a like nature) and are specially suited to the most moderate capacity.

Numerous sets of Tables have from time to time appeared before the Public, many of them excellent in their way, but still leaving the entire office of a Ready Reckoner incomplete; to fill up this hiatus is the intent of the present volume; and the Author humbly trusts that the object with which he set out is now accomplished.

IN submitting to the Public a second edition of the Indian Ready Reckoner, the Author begs to state that he has spared no labor in endeavouring to make it worthy of continued patronage. The Tables of Rates, Exchange and Weights, have been enlarged, and a copious set of Income Tables introduced. The work in its present form contains an addition of 32 pages of valuable matter not to be found in the original, of a character calculated to render it still more useful to the public.
